Southall Travel, one of the leading travel operators based in the UK, has come out with an attractive holiday deal for tourists looking for a stint with delightful Delhi in the peak travel season. Southall Travel is a specialist for India holidays and any exclusive package rolled out by the company for the region is sure to make people sit up and notice.

Vacationers booking with Southall Travel during the peak months of February-March will be able to net luxury deals that include a stay at Delhi's The Oberoi at a special price of £895 for three nights. For those desirous of longer stays at the five-star property, exclusive deals are offered for £1179 (5 nights) and £1465 (7 nights).

The Oberoi is one of India's most imperial properties and has a central location close to government offices, shopping hubs and business districts. It features 314 well appointed rooms and suites, overlooking either the lush greens of the Delhi Golf Course or the majesty of the Humayun's Tomb, city's premier heritage site.

"Affordable luxury deals for India holidays are fast becoming a popular phenomenon world over, with more and more business and leisure vacationers looking towards the Indian capital for a fruitful and fun-filled holiday. Southall Travel understands the needs of its clients and has come up with a superb vacation package in the traditional high season that would not only ensure a luxurious stay at The Oberoi but also promise a relative affordability," Southall Travel's Director of Sales was quoted as saying.

The special offer includes return flights and accommodation. Additional details and terms and conditions for the exclusive deal and various other offers are available at Southall Travel's website www.southalltravel.co.uk
